November 2020
We're here to support your family through home learning.

Celebrate Native American Heritage Month
November is Native American Heritage Month, when we honor the history and traditions of peoples native to this land. The library has ways to celebrate and learn with the young people in your life.

Explore Native voices

It's Sensory Storytime! Live
Storytime for children on the autism spectrum

Caregiver Moment
Take a moment to breathe to reduce stress

Books We Love
Librarian Jeanie reads from “I Can Make This Promise” by Christine Day

School Corps
Sign up for the quarterly newsletter we create for teachers
How to talk to kids about stereotypes

Stereotypes can be very harmful. It’s never too early to talk with children about the stereotyping they will see in the world around them, and help them fight against those stereotypes.

Put down the screens and make some music

Join local artist Addie Boswell to learn how to make your own instruments out of recycled materials found in your house. They are easy to make and great for all ages!